TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.
It is again announced that it is the intention of the Democratic National Committee to select as temporary chairman of the Chicago convention some man from one of the leading free silver states who is in sharpest antagonism to his party on the money question.

If this is done it will be a deliberate and intentional affront to the Democrats of the State thus singled out. And it is an affront that will not be submitted to. If such a man is tendered to the convention by the National Committee as temporary chairman, some delegate from the State thus affronted will rise in his place and move the substitution of a name that will be in harmony with the wishes of the majority. The result of a vote taken under these circumstances is not a matter of uncertainty. A temporary chairman in accord with the will of the convention will be elected.

Such a course will not be without precedent. Here is an extract from St. Louis' History of Presidential Elections, page 385:
The convention (Republican) met at Chicago on June 3. The National Committee had named ex-Senator Powell Clayton of Arkansas as the temporary chairman of the convention. This selection was supposed to be in the interests of Mr. Blaine. A nomination of the Hon. John B. Lynch of Mississippi, a distinguished colored man, was made from the floor, and the convention, on a vote by delegates, elected him to the position by 421 votes to 387 given for Mr. Clayton.

What was done at Chicago in 1854 will be done again if necessary, in 1898.

CYCLONE DISTRICT GARBAGE.
It is now nearly a month since the cyclone, and there is no excuse for the St. Louis Sanitary Company if it is neglecting to fulfill its obligation to remove the "ake both in and out of the cyclone belt. The plea that the men have not time to go a little out of their way to remove garbage from certain spots because of obstructed alleys ought not to be tolerated. Unlike certain legal agreements, time is not "of the essence" of this contract. The important point is that the garbage shall be removed promptly and regularly.

The citizens of the Lafayette Park district are showing commendable spirit in protesting against this neglect. They should keep up the agitation, and if the nuisance is not at once abated, they should see if the proposition that the City Health Department remove the garbage and the cost be charged against the St. Louis Sanitary Company can be put into effect.

It has been shown by Dr. Albert Shaw and others who have investigated the matter that the removal of city garbage under the Mers system is a source of large profit to the sanitary company. It is an outrage that the city should be compelled to pay heavily for furnishing a private corporation with a profitable business and then be left in the lurch when the services of the corporation are most needed.

JURORS MAY READ NEWSPAPERS.
At last we are likely to have such an amendment of the jury system as will admit intelligent men to the jury box. The New York Appellate Court has decided that a man is not disqualified for jury duty simply because he is a newspaper reader. The Court says:

"It is not the duty of a juror to read newspapers, but it is not the duty of a juror to be ignorant of the news of the world. A man who reads newspapers is not disqualified for jury duty."

definite opinions and impressions as to the matters therein contained, and express such opinions or impressions to others. Only the ignorant classes fail to read the newspapers from day to day.

It is apparent, therefore, that when men are called as jurors to sit in an important criminal case, a case that has excited great feeling and interest in the community, few honest, intelligent men will be able to say that they have not heard or read of the case and have not formed or expressed an opinion or impression as to the guilt of the defendant who is being tried.

The exclusion of men from jury duty because they have read reports of cases in newspapers is preposterous. It has resulted in making the intelligence of the average juror a byword. It is an unwarranted assumption that reporters do not tell the truth. As a matter of fact, they have no reason for not telling the entire and exact truth as far as it can be ascertained by human power.

man should be frowned upon. Women should be content with talking faster than men.

The English papers and the goldbug press of America are agreed as to American "heresies" in currency regulation, but the American people give little heed to either.

Mr. McKinley is now to be asked: "Would you veto a free silver bill?" As the platform is out, there is no honest reason why he should not make a prompt answer.

No doubt it was real lumbago that seized Senator Cullum when he was to have made a McKinley speech. Mr. Lincoln himself may have had lumbago at times.

Tom Reed is not going out of politics. Should McKinley be elected the Speaker may take the President for a client, as David B. Hill took Grover Cleveland.

Uncle Filley's fate may not be so hard as it seems. If the State and nation both go Democratic there will be no pie for any Republican boss, old or new.

The undertakers will doubtless pass resolutions of respect and approval upon the Ohio man who has paid his funeral expenses in advance.

No amount of summer heat should prevent the friends of silver from working this year as they have never worked before.

The silver contest is not so sectional as it may seem. There are many poor men in the East as well as in the West.

It is too late now for Brer Foraker to sing for free coinage. The gold plank is tongue and groove into the platform.

Emperor William will have to give the Bavarian lion a twist if the beast is not to chew up the Prussian eagle.

If Mr. McKinley is a "true American," why should he seek to force the English financial policy upon his country?

Mr. Whitney did well to delay his European trip and make a table showing that silver will win at Chicago.

Crow in the form of a harmonious invitation will not be the more palatable to our turned down Uncle Filley.

Garret A. Hobart scarcely slept a wink for ten days, and thus he put to sleep all the other tall candidates.

There was a tornado in New York, a tornado in New Jersey and a high wind in St. Louis on Sunday.

Calling the horse a hippopotamus is very well, but it cannot restore to him his ante-bicycle prestige.

The lawless members of the School Board came near missing the tornado as well as the convention.

In justice to his party Mr. McKinley should endeavor to wear his hair with a Napoleonic bang.

Happily the people of the United States are not looking through Wm. C. Whitney's spectacles.

The Bland Legion from St. Louis will make Chicago look like a convention town.

Haughwout of Carthage well deserves the congratulations he is receiving.

Next year Secretary Olney will have more time for his tennis, we trust.

The silver hosts will pass the McKinley troche easily.

Cuba should be made a republic, not a cemetery.

The enthusiasm seems to be all in Canton.

Political Incincerity.
From the Hannibal (Mo.) Journal.
It would appear that the St. Louis aggregation was hard to please; they slammed the door in the faces of the silver advocates because of differences on finance, and then turned round and (metaphorically speaking) skinned Cleveland for running the Treasury on gold standard principles.

WELL-KNOWN ST. LOUISANS.

Benjamin F. Hammett.
B. F. Hammett was born Feb. 14, 1842, near Huntsville, Mo., graduated from Mount Pleasant College, and served in the Confederate Army under Price. He was married in 1868, and engaged in stock raising. In 1875 he entered the banking firm of J. M. Hammett & Co., Huntsville, Mo. In 1877 he was appointed State Tobacco Inspector. He engaged in the real estate business in St. Louis in 1879. In 1888 the Hammett-Anderson-Wade Realty Company was formed, from which he retired two years ago and formed the firm of B. F. Hammett & Son, real estate agents.

MEN OF MARK.

The famous tenor Van Dyck has been decorated by the King of the Belgians with the cross of the Leopold order.
Rev. Stophord Brooke, the eminent English preacher and writer, has been far from well since he was elected to the episcopate. It is thought he will soon be able to resume his literary and clerical work.
O. H. Venner of Bluehill, Me., claims the distinction of having built from newspapers three years ago what is now said to be the best boat in his town. His material was thirty-six thicknesses of newspapers pasted together.
Ex-United States Senator Edmunds of Vermont resists all attempts made from time to time to use his tremendous influence in the politics of his State. He has a splendid law practice and is glad to be out of political life.
Rev. W. H. Eaton, who died the other day at his home in Nashua, N. H., was for many years one of the most prominent Baptist ministers in New England. In 1857 he raised $100,000 for Colby academy and $200,000 for Newton Theological seminary in 1871.

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Lord Rosebery's eldest daughter has been seen in London this season, and will probably be brought out next year and presented at court.
Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant's health is so much impaired that she has been unable to correct the manuscripts of her book. She has not yet decided on where she will spend the summer.
In literature the list of the unwed is long. It includes Nora Perry, "Ouida," Sarah Inge, Rosa Cary, Edith Thomas, Jean Orne Jewett, Mary Wilkins, Grace Deane Litchfield, Edna Lyall and dozens of others.
Mrs. K. A. Tringle, head of the esoteric section of the Theosophical Society, with seven theosophists, has started on a tour of the world to begin an occult crusade and to carry a knowledge of the teachings of theosophy to all Europe.
Mrs. Anna L. Hawkins of Maryland, a pupil at the New York School of Applied Design for Women, competed with a number of men architects for designing a new High School Building at Havre de Grace, Md., and her plans were successful.

WE MUST NOT BLUNDER.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
There are many ideas in the affairs of nations and political parties as well as individuals. The opportunity of the Democratic party is now. To sacrifice the opportunity by a blunder would be a crime. We can all look back and note the errors committed in the past; but the evidence around us is such that it requires no great amount of wisdom to meet the duties of the hour and the just expectations of the people.
With the clear light before us furnished by passing events, if those to whom the party has committed its destiny at Chicago fall now to do the right thing and at the right time, there should be no forgiveness for them in the future.
I was glad to read the communication of Mr. De Armond in your issue of the 18th inst. His recommendations I have urged for some time past. The hope of the Democratic party in the coming election is west of the Alleghenies and south of the Potomac; for, with a proper candidate and platform, these States are almost sure to give their votes to the nominee of the Chicago convention, while Mark Hanna's crowd, from the way Maine has gone, will have enough to do to hold New England, New York and Pennsylvania.

Will the delegates from the silver States permit the rivalry of candidates and local pride to divide them in the convention? Will they permit the gold delegates, unable to nominate a candidate to their entire liking, by combinations to foist upon the party a nominee who has no settled convictions and whose nomination would lead to inevitable defeat? In other words will the delegates from the silver States nominate the candidate who will give them New York and New England to do for them?

This is a serious and practical question, which addresses itself to every delegate to the convention who is guided by an honest purpose to carry out the will of the people, and who seeks the nomination of a candidate whose selection means his election.
We are on the eve of a political revolution, and nothing but the folly of Democratic leaders can stay the tide or defeat the party. Certain conditions now exist and they should be met. These are, first, an unequivocal declaration in favor of the sound and honest money of the Constitution—silver and gold—and the unrestricted coinage of both at the old ratio of 16 to 1, and that without the leave or license of the debauched, effete and corrupt old monarchies of Europe. And this should be stated as plainly as are the ten commandments, without rhetoric or innuendo. Second, the nomination of a candidate whose past record is such that every man would know that the pledges made would be redeemed. The people have been hoodwinked once and they cannot be fooled again. The first time it was their misfortune; the second, should it occur, would be a crime upon their part or the part of their representatives.

If these two conditions are met, the victory is won. If either is unprovided for, the battle is lost. This is the exact condition that leaves us, slow should it be met. The plan is very simple. Let all of the delegates from the silver States meet in caucus, say the day before the convention. Let the names of Mr. Bland, Mr. Boies, Senator Blackburn, Gov. Matthews or any other gentleman spoken of as a candidate be presented. Then let the delegates from the silver States select from the number the candidate who is to lead the party, and let him be nominated in the convention.
If this is done, and the two-third rule should be abolished, we may wake up to the realization that the States hostile to the Democratic party, and where a Democratic electoral ticket cannot be elected on any kind of platform, have selected the nominee. I am in favor of the silver States acting as a unit through a caucus.

THE GAIT OF WOMEN.

"How women walk" has recently been the subject of discussion in Parlan journal. According to this authority the palm must be awarded to French women. The English woman, it states, does not walk; she travels. Her limbs appear to be moved by the engine of a steamer, and her feet have the proportions of an Atlantic liner. Concerning the gait of women of other countries, this interesting journal goes on to remark that the German is heavy, one feels the earth tremble beneath her tread; the Spanish woman "prances," the American resembles the pendulum of a clock, the Italian "skips," the Russian "skates," the Dutch woman "tolls" and the Belgian tramps about.

Domestic Diplomacy.

"I always let my daughters have their say about the color of the lamp shades and the arrangement of the doilies," said a sensible mother. "I find, as a result, they are not in such a hurry to get married. The foundation of most girls' desire to marry is to live in a house where they can have their own way about the lamp shades and doilies."

To Broil Fish.

When it is not convenient to broil fish over an open fire it may be nicely broiled in a very hot oven. Prepare as for the usual kind of broiling and lay with the skin down over a fish rack or on a piece of oiled paper in a roasting pan. Cook on the upper grate of the oven until browned, seasoning it first with salt, pepper, melted butter and during the cooking, turn the fish over. Broil should always be garnished with parsley and lettuce and sliced lemon or a piquant sauce.

Strawberry Fool.

One pint of strawberries, one pint of raspberries, half pound of loaf sugar, one pint of cream and table-spoonful of orange-flower water. Crush the strawberries and raspberries with a wood or silver mortar. Whisk put them in a washing-machine they are easily managed, as no amount of hand washing answers so well as a fair allowance of wind, should be chosen for washing them. The sauce should be boiled the day before it is required.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
In your article headed "Conferences by the Political Silver Men" the figures came out in a singular way and figures 16 to 1 or 4 ways.
The delegates of the States which went out of the convention represent 16 electoral votes. The silver States represent 16 electoral votes, which is 16 to 1. Senator Teller, it is said, will carry 28 electoral votes. This divided by 16 gives us 16 as the result.
This will certainly be interesting to the superstitious individual, and we can feel encouraged from the fact that figures won't lie, no matter how they set them down. 28, 16 or 16—they come out significantly as 16 to 1. Marshal the Bland Hosts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
I have a suggestion to offer in regard to the Bland boom. It is this:
Let cheap excursions be run from numerous points in Missouri to the Chicago Convention for the benefit of the Bland boomers. Let the fare be nominal, say $1 for the round trip. Get all the Bland boomers possible in this way and have them there on time to parade the streets and yell for Bland's candidate.
Do this; advertise the excursions and their object; appeal to the common people to turn out and show the delegates from other States what they think of their candidate. Let the Bland boomers be the farmers and business men who otherwise would not attend, on hand to do all in their power for their candidate.
The moral support to Missouri delegates and its effect on the Bland boom of this immense crowd would be enormous. It would go further, too, to convert other delegates to our cause. The Bland boomers put together. The booms of other favored sons would pale into positive insignificance before the millions of Bland boomers to honor their silver leader, and his nomination would be a practical certainty.

A Few Little Notes.

Coffee sherbet is delicious if well made. A black silk stocking is always in good taste. Never put gloves away while they are moist. New handkerchiefs are shown largely in bleuet brown. The ideally refined woman will not bleach her hair. The younger a woman is the more fastidious is she in regard to her shirt waist. With dimities and ribbons as cheap there is no reason why women should not be daintily attired at this season. The carter shake is to be a fashionable pet, since the Duchess of Marlborough has so decreed.

Funny Business About Mrs. Craven's Deeds From Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 22.—Charles L. Fair and his attorneys may have a merry chase to catch a glimpse of the two deeds conveying over $100,000 worth of his father's property to Mrs. Nettie R. Craven, which were recorded on Friday last. It is in the range of possibilities that Mrs. Craven will refuse to obey the order of Judge Stack to show these documents in court.

To begin with, her attorneys doubt very seriously the power of Judge Stack to compel the production of these instruments on the ground that they were executed anterior to the date of the Fair will and consequently not material to the contest now going on. In the second place, the deeds have dropped out of sight for the time being. A question is being asked if any of the four people upon whom the order of court was served have them now in their possession.

COURT-HOUSE BURNED.

All the Records of Sheridan County, Kan., Destroyed.

HOKIE, Kan., June 22.—Sunday morning the Court-house in this place was burned to the ground and all of the records of the Register of Deeds and County Treasurer destroyed. The safes had been both opened and the records taken out and piled on the floor, opened up, some on their faces, others on their backs and some on edge, placed in any haphazard way that they would be sure to be destroyed.

There was $300 in the Treasurer's safe, which is gone, all of June 19 and June 20, the County Treasurer's office was looted, and his records were saved. It will cost Sheridan County about $20,000 to replace the loss and put the records where they were.

THEY HAD LOTS OF EXCUSES.

But Were Too Manly to Urge Them—A Weak Tail Spoiled Their Chance to Win.

The St. Louis Cycling Club won the great team race from the Century Road Club at the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon. The score stood 114 to 96 in favor of the Cycling Club.

It was a fine race. There is no doubt that the best team won nor can there be the least bit of doubt that the Century Road Club rode a great race under most disadvantageous circumstances.

It has been said that the Centuries had no excuse to make for their defeat. It would have been more proper to say that through sheer manliness they made no excuse for their defeat. For excuses they had and good ones, too. If Tom Dempsey had better than he did. However, whatever that he would have added at least ten points to the Century's score. This would have made it 106 to 114. Had Ross Miller not punctured his tire he might have hung on to the bunch and finished better than he did. However, that is a problem for another day.

There is no doubt whatever that Dempsey would have been up and "knocking at the door" had not a virulent boil welled. The man who made his appearance might not have won the race, but it would have helped the team to finish up in the money.

The race was run as everybody expected it would be. It was the original intention of the managers on the race track with the finish made on the grand-stand. The rain made the track a sea of mud and forced a change in the programme to the road.

The heavy rainstorm and as the expected crowd was kept away by the rain some of the best riders of the team were anxious to get Dempsey into the race as he had better than he did. However, that is a problem for another day.

During the first part of the morning the American oarsmen were coached in pairs and worked on the course to-day twice the day of training, and will be so from this time on.

Trinity Hall was out at an early hour, and rowed in short stretches to Temple Island. The famous sculler made his first appearance at 11:45 this morning. They went to Temple Island and back at 2:30 to the minute start.

Dr. McDowell in Hard Luck.

LONDON, June 22.—A dispatch from Henry to the Pall Mall Gazette says that Dr. W. S. McDowell, the American champion sculler, was the course to-day twice the day of training, and will be so from this time on.

Alex Laing, the brilliant youngster who won first time in the Forest Park, demonstrated by his performance that his great race on June 6 was no fluke. Young Laing won a fine race, took his share of the pace and finished within himself. He was undoubtedly entitled to rank as the premier road rider of St. Louis.

Alex Laing finished first all right, but Jake Weidner rode the best race for his club. Weidner rode the lot of the team, and he was a steady, steady pacer. He cut much to do with his team's victory. He cut much to do with his team's victory. He cut much to do with his team's victory.

Brace never lined an hour for the race. Cox has not been in the best of health and did not want to engage in the race, as he was afraid he could not stand the training. W. M. Ropporough was responsible for putting the team committee did not want to put him on, as he had not trained. Ropporough insisted that he was fit and would ride away up any afternoon. After much discussion the hand-picked team was sent out. It is a good thing that he did. Cox about won the race for his team. If he had been let to substitute, you would have about finished.

A good many people were around last night making bets for Eddie Grath. Grath never made a bet. He rode a race in keeping with his great reputation. He went out to beat Harding and was beaten a full foot. It was the first time that Harding has been beaten since he came to St. Louis. With two men so evenly matched any little thing may make one or the other the winner. Grath rode a good race and next time may ride a better one. The fact that he did not finish first cuts no figure. He was looking for Harding, not for first place.

Bert Harding rode a very creditable race. He captured the team and was forced to do a whole lot of extra riding and thinking. He ran the team in good shape and showed excellent judgment. In addition to all this he entered the last lap five yards behind the leaders yet managed to finish a close fifth, incidentally landing a whole lot of money by beating Grath. Harding gave it out cold last night that he could have won the race had the club wanted him to do so.
